Docent Appreciation Dinner at CACHE

Dwight Miller, CACHE Board President, thanks volunteers during a dinner celebration.

CACHE gave special thanks to all of its docents on April 17th from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. with a scrumptious buffet dinner and prizes for its top three volunteers. “Our docents allow CACHE to be open to the public on the weekends,” said Docent Coordinator Robyn Stearns. “We couldn’t do it without them.”

Twenty-one attendees enjoyed a wonderful buffet meal consisting of tri-tip, baked potatoes, green beans, salad, rolls, and a choice of chocolate or strawberry layer cake for dessert. The docent dinner was provided and prepared by the board members as a token of appreciation for all their service.

The docents who gave the most hours in 2023 were Cheri Southworth with 46 hours, Vicki Ashbrook with 30 hours, and Debbie Sherer with 30 hours. They were all gifted a beautiful scented candle from Rosemary & Thyme in Exeter. Mega Millions lottery tickets were also given to all guests, and everyone is crossing their fingers for the next drawing!

Anyone interested in becoming a docent at CACHE can contact Robyn Stearns at 559-679-2474 or the CACHE office at 559-592-5900.

Duo Exhibition Artists' Reception

CACHE hosted a successful artists' reception on April 6th from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. for the duo exhibition, Oil & Water Do Mix. The curated exhibit featured watercolor paintings by Anna Nelson and oil paintings by Marty Weekly. Over 120 attendees admired the vivid colors and skill demonstrated in the numerous works while enjoying live piano by Chase Sanborn. The Hometown Emporium provided the evening's finger foods, which included sandwiches, veggies, shrimp, a meat and cheese platter, and a tempting assortment of delicious mini cupcakes.

Thank you to all of our guests and to everyone who made the event possible. The exhibit will be on display at CACHE through the end of June 2024. Stop by and visit us during our regular business hours, Friday through Sunday.

Exeter Invincibles History Talk

Don't miss CACHE's upcoming series, CACHE Chats: Tales of Exeter and Beyond, by board president Dwight Miller on Monday, May 20th, at 5:30 p.m. Dwight will be discussing "The Invincibles," an Exeter football team that won two state championships a century ago and is the subject of the outdoor mural located on the Exeter Union High School gym.

Upcoming June History Exhibits

In June, we are thrilled to present several brand-new historical exhibits to the community. These will offer an in-depth view of local Yokuts tribes, Waterman Industries, and the Exeters of the World. More information will be shared on our social media pages in the upcoming month.
